From the Principal's Desk

This weekend we hear in the gospel reading about the parable of a man who went on a journey and left his possessions with three servants. We are reminded that all that we have right now- our strengths, our talents, and everything that we own is borrowed from God. When we use what we have to multiply God's goodness and love, we will share in God's joy!

School Office Hours:

COVID-19 Updates

As we enter into the winter season let us reflect on the past ten weeks of school. We have masked up, washed hands, secluded in cohorts, screened at entrance, maintained social distancing, sanitized frequently, isolated with symptoms, maximized class outdoors, kept windows open, given air hugs, focused on keeping healthy, and prayed every day.

This next Winter Quarter we have to renew our commitment to keeping our community healthy. We are determined to continue to provide a safe and healthy space to learn in-person and we need all families to continue to follow COVID protocols especially during the holidays. Our WA State Department of Health provides detailed advice on how to do this here: <https://coronavirus.wa.gov/information-for-you-and-your-family/safer-gatherings>

Our HFS recommendation is to err on the side of caution, if you have a family gathering and someone refuses to mask up or do the other COVID protocols, consider self-isolating for a period of time before coming back to school. Our DoH and Thurston County Pathways/Flowcharts do not have a category for people without any symptoms, however, we know that this virus is airborne and when we follow all the safety precautions we minimize the risk.

We trust in our scientists to continue to provide us with guidance on the layers of COVID prevention and ways to stay healthy in general - like getting enough sleep, maintaining cleanliness, eating nutritious foods, getting the Flu vaccine, exercising daily, and drinking plenty of water.

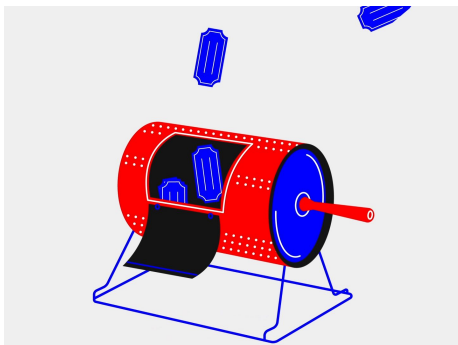

We have faith in our God and our Church to continue to provide us with inspiration, spiritual nourishment and joy through the Sacraments of Mass and Reconciliation and through our daily life of prayer - like reciting the Rosary, the Chaplet of Divine Mercy, reading the Bible, attending Adoration, volunteering our time, tithing our resources, and the ways that develop healthy relationship with God, self and others.
