COVID-19 Updates

We know that it is hard to celebrate Thanksgiving with only your household and stay home, but please, offer up your Thanksgiving sacrifice for all those without a warm place to live, fresh clean water, access to libraries & parks, or just for people around the world in pain.

If you:

Gather with people outside of your household or bubble for more than 15 minutes without a mask (ie. eating together),

We kindly request that you keep your child home for the week after Thanksgiving. Our teachers are prepared to offer distance learning for that week. We are here to keep our children and families safe, healthy and learning. Our actions as Christian is the biggest lesson our children will remember.

Let your teacher know as soon as possible if you will keep your child home that week of Nov 30 - Dec 4.

NEW COVID Student Pathway

Yesterday the Thurston County Public Health Office updated their COVID-19 Pathway. They reinforced the Washington State Department of Health FlowChart that details Class A Symptoms and Class B Symptoms.

In the new Student Pathway please note that if the symptoms are caused by another illness, the healthcare provider can "clear the student with a note."

Please read through the Pathway here:
